

HOMEOPATHIC TREATMENT

- Homeopathic treatment is not an objective to achieve; it is simply a process in which the patient, the family members and the homeopath all take part in mutual cooperation and confidence;
- It touches not only the body of an individual but his mental and emotional aspects also;
- Homeopathic Remedies are taken from the various sources of the environment selected on a simple principle that if a particular substance causes a problem in a healthy body the same substance can cure that body if a problem has affected it;
- A Homeopathic Remedy is given on totality of symptoms appearing in a person at a given point of time. Sometimes there is a lack of communication between the person needing a remedy and the person giving the remedy that a particular symptom is not conveyed / understood properly. Therefore, one or more efforts to select a remedy are always a possibility. Give your homeopath a time to scan your problems again and again;
- As the pathology and the constitution of individuals become more and more complicated and multifaceted with the advent of time therefore the contemporary homeopathy has deviated from the classical approach and resort to the multi-remedy system;
- During this course of Homeopathic Remedies you have to observe your physical, mental and emotional progress very minutely and communicate it to the Homeopath in details;
- Your Homeopathic Remedies are only for you. None else can use them under any condition. It may cause an uncalled problem to such new person;
